THE PROMISE of an ingenious and durable product.

For over 45 years, Wirquin's collaborators have been combining their imagination and creativity to design and produce innovative sanitary and plumbing equipment

Their only goal: to improve the performance of professionals and enhance user comfort. They dare, experiment, and break the rules to meet the challenge of more responsible and economical water management. They develop smart products that save time and space while ensuring durable installations tailored to the most demanding wet conditions.

Issues related to climate change and resource conservation are among the major concerns and are at the heart of Wirquin's development strategy.

Today, more than ever, concrete actions, rethinking, and refining operational methods are needed. Wirquin has redefined its strategy to make it more comprehensive and ambitious, setting a common framework of objectives for the company in terms of Social and Environmental Responsibility (CSR).
